

The Manchebo was dressed in red for Valentine's Day!

The Best Western Manchebo Beach Resort had its red dress on for the day devoted to amore, and quite a few chose to celebrate a romantic, sumptuous dinner in their fine restaurant, including the resort's owner, Ike Cohen! Whether seated in the open air dining room, or enjoying a romantic table for two around the pool, under the stars, everyone found the sumptuous dinner a lover's delight.

Valentine's Day is a special day for all romantics, and for Karen and Gary of Chicopee, Massachusetts, it had particular meaning, as they were married in Aruba just on year before, and look forward to celebrating their first anniversary on Thursday, February 16th. Most of those enjoying the beautiful dinner confessed to being regular guests, whether from New Jersey, Florida or Boston, their Valentine's Day evening spent at the Manchebo has become an annual event!
